

Birthday Cakes and Natasha's Law - IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Due to the introduction of Natasha's Law (The UK Food Information Amendment) coming into force on the 1st of October 2021, we have had to implement some conditions for bringing in birthday cakes for parties.

Any birthday cake, cupcakes or party celebration cakes brought in to a party, must be a shop bought cake in a box or a cake by a reputable baker/cake maker with the following information attached:

- Name of the food.
- Full ingredients list, with allergenic ingredients emphasised (for example in bold, italics or a different colour).

A supermarket cake will always have an ingredient list on the box. If your cake is made by a baker or specific cake designer, they will by law have to follow the same rules as above and provide the full ingredient list and this must accompany the cake to the party.

Home made cakes, unfortunately, will no longer be allowed to be brought in to birthday parties.

It is your responsibility as organiser of the party to ascertain any allergies that your guests may have and take appropriate action.

Please do not put our staff in the embarrassing situation of having to tell you that you cannot bring your cake in to your party.
